My Qualifications

As of the date noted on this report I am working as Director, Industry Research & Analysis for the National Shooting Sports Foundation, Inc. (NSSF), a position held since November 2009. I received my associate's degree in business administration from the State University of New York at Cobleskill in 1991 and my bachelor's degree in business management from the University of North Carolina at Wilmington in 1993. My approximate 20 year business work history focuses mainly on sales, marketing, advertising, research and analysis.

NSSF, formed in 1961, is the trade association for the firearms, ammunition, hunting and recreational shooting sports industry. Its mission is to promote, protect and preserve hunting and the shooting sports. The NSSF has a membership of more than 10,000 manufacturers, distributors, firearm retailers, shooting ranges, sportsmen's organizations and publishers.

In my current position as Director, Industry Research and Analysis, I am responsible for most of the research activities at NSSF, and I direct the activities of an internal research coordinator as well as several outside companies retained to conduct research and gather market and consumer information useful to NSSF members. Under my direction, dozens of informational reports and studies focusing on industry topics and trends such as: firearms, ammunition, target shooting and hunting have been released to the NSSF member base and many are shared outside the NSSF member base as well. Data from these releases has been referenced many times in endemic, non-endemic, online and print newspaper and magazine articles, used in corporate 10K reports, and mentioned in other media. I have authored and provided information for several articles published in trade magazines. I have also been deposed as an expert witness on the topics of commonality of modern sporting rifles and magazines capable of holding more than 10 rounds of ammunition.

I have reviewed the relevant Massachusetts Statutes constituting bans on semiautomatic rifles and large capacity magazines; the Massachusetts Attorney General's Notice of Enforcement dated July 20, 2016; the interrogatory answers of Attorney General Maura Healey, Secretary of the Executive Office of Public Safety and Security Daniel Bennett, and Superintendent of the Massachusetts State Police Colonel Richard McKeon; and guiding information from the Massachusetts Attorney General's website providing additional answers and information on permissible and impermissible firearms.

I am not receiving a fee in exchange for my opinions.

Opinions and Supporting Evidence

Many NSSF members manufacture, distribute and/or sell firearms, and they look to NSSF to provide market data reflecting consumer preferences, market trends and other information for use in their business decisions. Among the firearm products sold by NSSF members are modern sporting rifles, a category of firearms comprised primarily of semiautomatic rifles built on the AR- and AK-platforms.¹ A "semiautomatic," or self-loading, rifle is a firearm which fires, extracts, ejects and reloads a cartridge once for each pull and release of the trigger.² These rifles have the capacity to accept a detachable magazine. Additionally, they come in a range of calibers, including 22 rimfire, 223 Remington, and larger calibers used for hunting big game (e.g., white-tailed deer). Research conducted by the NSSF and under my direction demonstrates that modern sporting rifles are popular and commonly owned and used by millions of persons in the United States for a variety of lawful purposes, including, but not limited to, recreational and competitive target shooting, home defense, collecting and hunting.

1) Figures from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) Annual Firearms Manufacturers and Exports Reports (AFMER) show that between 1990 and 2015, United States

² "Semiautomatic" rifles should not be confused with "automatic" rifles, which fire when the trigger is pulled and continue to fire until the trigger is released or ammunition is exhausted. manufacturers produced approximately 9,309,000 AR-platform rifles for sale in the United States commercial marketplace. More than 50 different manufacturers produced these rifles, including Smith & Wesson, Colt, Remington, Sig Sauer and Sturm, Ruger. During these same years, figures from the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) show approximately 4,430,000 AR- and AK-platform rifles were imported into the United States for sale in the commercial marketplace. In 2015 alone, more than 1.5 million of these rifles were either manufactured in the U.S. or imported to the U.S. for sale. By way of comparison, in 2015, the number of modern sporting rifles manufactured in or imported to the U.S. was nearly double the number of the most commonly sold vehicle in the U.S., the Ford F series pick-up trucks (including F-150, F-250, F-350, F-450 and F-550). See <http://fordauthority.com/fmc/ford-motor-company-sales-numbers/ford-sales-numbers/ford-f-series-sales-numbers/> (780,354 sold). Modern sporting rifles have been available to civilians since at least the late 1950s.³ Thus, many more AR- and AK-platform rifles were either manufactured in the U.S. or imported to the U.S. for sale in the commercial marketplace prior to 1990.

2) In 2013, NSSF published its Modern Sporting Rifle (MSR) Comprehensive Consumer Report 2013. The findings in the report were based on on-line responses from 21,942 owners of modern sporting rifles. Included among the findings were that the typical owner of a modern sporting rifle is male, over 35 years old, married with a household income above $75,000 and has some college education. Approximately 35 percent of all owners of modern sporting rifles are current or former members of the military or law enforcement.⁴ The survey found that three out of every four recently purchased modern sporting rifles are chambered for 223 Remington ammunition. Standard capacity magazines capable of holding 30 rounds or more of ammunition are the most popular magazines used in modern sporting rifles. Owners of modern sporting rifles consider accuracy and reliability to be the most important attributes of a modern sporting rifle. Other reasons cited by survey respondents for their purchase of modern sporting rifles include ergonomics, low recoil, ease with which they can be shot and their light weight. Recreational target shooting was ranked as the number one reason why owners purchased a modern sporting rifle, followed closely by home defense. Other reasons for owning a modern sporting rifle include, but are not limited to, varmint hunting, big game hunting, competitive target shooting and collecting. The average price paid for a modern sporting rifle by survey respondents was $1,058.00. Combining data from this report with production and import data from ATF AFMER and ITC, we can apply a weighted average formula showing more than 4.8 million people currently own one or more modern sporting rifle.

³ <http://world.guns.ru/civil/usa/ar-15-e.html>. The original AR-15 Sporter rifles were manufactured for the civilian market by Colt's Firearms since 1963. See, attached advertisement.

⁴ By contrast, the NSSF Modern Sporting Rifle (MSR) Comprehensive Consumer Report 2010 found that 44% of all owners of modern sporting rifles were current or former members of the military or law enforcement. Consistent with general sales trend data, it is reasonable to infer that this difference is attributable to an increase in the popularity and ownership of modern sporting rifles in the general civilian population.

3) In 2017, the NSSF published its Firearms Retailer Survey Report 2017 edition. The report set forth findings based on an on-line survey of 324 firearm retailers located across the United States. Among the findings were that 92.9 percent of those responding to the survey currently sell new modern sporting rifles. Of the modern sporting rifles sold, those chambered for 223 Remington ammunition were by far the most commonly purchased. Respondents reported that modern sporting rifles were the most popular long gun sold accounting for 17.9 percent of the firearms they sold in 2016. In contrast, 11.3 percent of the firearms sold were traditionally styled rifles while 11.5 percent of the firearms they sold were shotguns.

4) In 2017, NSSF published its Sports Shooting Participation in the United States in 2016 report. The report, based upon 3,050 telephone interviews, indicates that participation in any target shooting or sport shooting increased 44 percent from approximately 34.4 million participants in 2009 to 49.4 million participants in 2016, an increase of 15 million participants. The report also indicates that participation in target shooting with a modern sporting rifle increased 57 percent from approximately 8.9 million participants in 2009 to 14.0 million participants in 2016.

5) The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) releases National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICS) figures on a monthly basis. NICS figures are commonly viewed as a proxy for firearm sales. NSSF adjusts down the monthly FBI NICS by subtracting background checks that do not correspond with a firearm transfer ("NSSF-Adjusted NICS"). NSSF releases NSSF-Adjusted NICS data to the industry in an attempt to provide a more accurate picture of market conditions. In 2015, total NSSF-Adjusted NICS were approximately 14,244,000 nationwide.

6) In 2017, NSSF compiled and released a chart estimating that 230 million pistol and rifle magazines were in U.S. consumer possession between 1990 and 2015. The data supporting that chart further shows magazines capable of holding more than ten rounds of ammunition accounted for approximately 114.7 million or 49.9 percent of all magazines owned. It can be assumed many more such magazines were manufactured in the U.S. or imported to the U.S. for sale in the commercial marketplace prior to 1990.

Based on the findings listed above, it is my opinion that both modern sporting rifles and magazines that are capable of holding more than ten rounds of ammunition are commonly used by millions of law abiding Americans for a variety of lawful purposes. Additionally it is my opinion that both lawful ownership and usage of modern sporting rifles are becoming even more common in recent years.

1 METHODOLOGY

The MSR Consumer Study employed an online survey methodology. With no database available of known MSR owners, NSSF promoted participation in this study via online banner ads on various websites, blogs and e-newsletters geared toward firearms ownership and hunting such as:

- AR-15.com e-newsletter
- Bushmaster Website and Facebook page
- DPMS Website and Facebook page
- Field & Stream blog
- Gun Digest website
- Guns and Ammo website
- NSSF Facebook page & Twitter post
- NSSF/GunBroker Pull the Trigger e-newsletter
- Remington Facebook page
- Smith & Wesson Facebook page & Twitter post
- 3-Gun Nation website and Facebook page
- Tapco website and Facebook page
- Winchester ammunition e-newsletter

A contest to win one of three $500 Cabela's gift cards was included as an incentive to complete the survey in full. The term "Modern Sporting Rifle" was clearly defined as AR- or AK-platform rifles such as an AR-15, AR-10, AK-47 or other semi-automatic rifles with detachable magazines. Photographs of both AR- and AK-platform MSR's were shown on the survey landing page. To further pair down response to those that would correctly complete the survey, the survey's initial question asked "Do you own at least one Modern Sporting Rifle? (If you do not own a MSR but would still like to be entered in the contest, select "No".) These safeguards narrowed the usable responses from 26,719 to 21,942.

This gives a very high confidence level. The Confidence Interval for the full "MSR Owner" sample ranges from +/- 0.29 percentage points to +/- 0.68 percentage points at the 95% confidence level. So, for example, if the survey shows 50% of MSR owners shoot at ranges, we can be confident 95 times out of 100 that the real value lies within +/- 0.68 percentage points so between 49.32% and 50.68%. Or to put it another way: Less than 5 times out of 100 would we expect to find a difference of more than 0.68 percentage points due to sampling.

Survey was live April and May 2013.

2 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

In the spring of 2013, The National Shooting Sports Foundation (NSSF) contracted with Sports Marketing Surveys (SMS) of Jupiter, Florida to conduct a large consumer study to learn more about the growing category of MSR Modern Sporting Rifle (MSR) ownership. This survey was formatted to follow the 2010 MSR Consumer Report from NSSF and SMS first collaboration in 2010. In the 2013 survey, MSRs were specified as either an AR platform, AK platform or other semi-automatic rifle with a detachable magazine. Prior to the start of the survey, the NSSF gathered together a panel of industry leaders and experts from the manufacturing, retailing and law enforcement/military backgrounds to ensure that right questions were asked to provide the most amount of information possible.

The survey was conducted using an Internet based methodology. Links were posted on many of the popular consumer oriented web sites in the industry in order to solicit responses. An incentive was used in order to facilitate this process. At the end of the fielding period, well over 26,000 total responses were received of which over 21,942 came from MSR owners. This response was a significant increase from the 2010 study of 11,400 respondents. This large sample meant that we were able to perform a number of very specific survey cross tabs to look at some differences among MSR owners.

MSRs owners are predominantly male (99%). Over 75% of male MSR owners are married, of those married, more than half indicated their wife went target shooting with them and 14% own her own MSR. Even though only 1% of respondents were female, there appeared to be a large interest in MSRs and MSR related recreational shooting activities within the female population.

Most owners are older, with 61% over the age of 45 and most don't have children living in the home (58%). The more MSR's owned, the more likely they are to lock up their weapons.

35% reported having either military or law enforcement background. This is down from the 44% reported in 2010. Although the veteran status has increased slightly, the 2013 survey seemed to tap more into the civilian MSR population.

Although Range membership is down from 51% in 2010 to 48% in 2013, members have increased the usage of their MSRs compared to 2010. Range members tend to be older and have an income greater than $75,000. In regards to weapon and accessory purchase, the Range and Non-Range member have relatively the same habits with the exception of price. Over 60% are recent MSR buyers and plan on purchasing accessories in the next 12 months.

The rate of ownership has increased dramatically since 2010. Those who only own one MSR, 49% purchased their first in 2012 and 2013. Overall, 2012 was the highest (17%) for new ownership since prior to 1994. 91% of all MSR owners own at least one AR Platform weapon. Just over a quarter of owners report having 4 or more MSR's, with 14% being only AR Platforms. Most own only one AK Platform (67%). Those who own multiple MSR's (2 or more) tend to be more active with almost half of them hunting, 92% target shooting and 19% shoot in competitions with an MSR.

MSR ownership is not limited to one category of guns. Many MSR owners own at least one other non-MSR weapon. Handguns are the most popular at 90%, followed by the traditional rifle and shotgun (82%). Muzzleloaders (28%) and Paintball guns (15%) are less favorable. Those under the age of 35 are more likely to own a paintball gun and less likely to own a muzzleloader. Only 1% of MSR owners, whether a single or multiple owner, own only MSRs.

Over a third of MSR owners first gain interest in MSRs through a friend and a quarter through the military. Most MSR owners target shoot with at least one other person (84%) which mimics the 2010 report. MSRs are mostly used for rifle target shooting (89%), either at a public range (52%) or private range (51%). Almost half of all MSR owners target shoot on family land, which could indicate target shooting as a family activity. 94% of MSR owners used at least one MSR in the past 12 months. Most (40%) used their MSR on average once a month. Frequency of use increases with number of MSR owned.

Most MSRs were bought from an independent retail store. The average cost of a MSR was $1,058, $25 less than the average spent in 2010. .223/5.56mm was the prefer caliber for the AR Platform, where the AK platform was usual 7.62mm x 39mm caliber. Almost two thirds of MSR owners have at least a few accessories, added within 12 months of purchase, on their most recent MSR with an average of $400 dollars spent.

	2010	2013
Average # MSRs Owned	2.6	3.1
Average $ Spent on MSRs	$1,083	$1,058
Average $ Spent on MSRs Accessories	$436	$381

*NOTE: 2013 NSSF Survey identified AR and AK platforms separately. 2010 NSSF Survey included AK but was tailored more toward the AR platform owner.

3 FAST FACTS

1. The average MSR owner is 35+ years old, married and has at least some college education. 54% have a HH income of $75,000+ and 57% do not have children living with them.
2. 66% of MSR owners that responded to the study own 2 or more MSRs.
3. Those who shoot more than 24 times a year are much more likely to own multiple MSRs.
4. MSR owners are more likely to own multiple AR platform MSRs than AK MSRs.
5. 26% of MSR owners purchased their first rifle in 2012 or 2013. Over a 1/3 of those who own 4 or more MSRs purchased their first MSR prior to 1994.
6. 9 out of 10 MSR owners owned a handgun prior to owning an MSR.
7. 33% of range members first gained interest in MSRs at a shooting range. Over a quarter of all MSR owners first gained interest in MSRs in the military.
8. 35% of MSR owners are current or former military/law enforcement.
9. Almost half of MSR owners are shooting range members and membership steadily increases with age and income.
10. 8 out of 10 MSR owners purchased their MSR new. Those who own only one MSRs are slightly more likely to purchase used than multiple MSR owners.
11. Showing this is a growth segment, 2/3 of all MSR owners obtained their most recent MSR in 2012 or 2013, while 7% received their most recent MSR in 2005 or earlier.
12. 55% of MSR owners paid under $1,000 for their MSR. Half of MSR owners who shoot 2+ times/month paid $1,000 or more for their most recent MSR.
13. 36% of all MSR owners purchased their most recent MSR at an independent retail store or a gun show.
14. Most MSRs recently purchased were chambered in .223/5.56mm.

16. 79% of MSR owners have at least one accessory on their rifle or do not shoot "out of the box." Younger (under 35 years of age) shooters prefer to heavily accessorize their rifle. 62% of owners accessorize their rifle after their purchase but within 12 months after purchasing it.
17. Those most likely to spend $600+ on aftermarket customizations are: 4+ MSR owners, 2+ times/month shooters, under 35 year olds and those with $110k+ HH income.
18. 71% of MSR owners use a scope as their primary optic. Older shooters tend to use a scope as their primary optic whereas younger shooters prefer a red dot as a primary optic.
19. About half of all MSR owners use a 30-round magazine the most in their MSR. Younger MSR owners are more likely to use higher capacity magazines than older MSR owners.
20. 66% of MSR owners use a collapsible/folding stock but this usage rate decreases with age.
21. 3 out of 4 of the most recent MSRs purchased had flat top upper receivers.
22. MSR owners are pretty evenly split on having rails or not having rails on their MSR.

10 CLUSTER ANALYSIS/MARKET SEGMENTATION

Explanation of Cluster Analysis/Market Segmentation Analysis

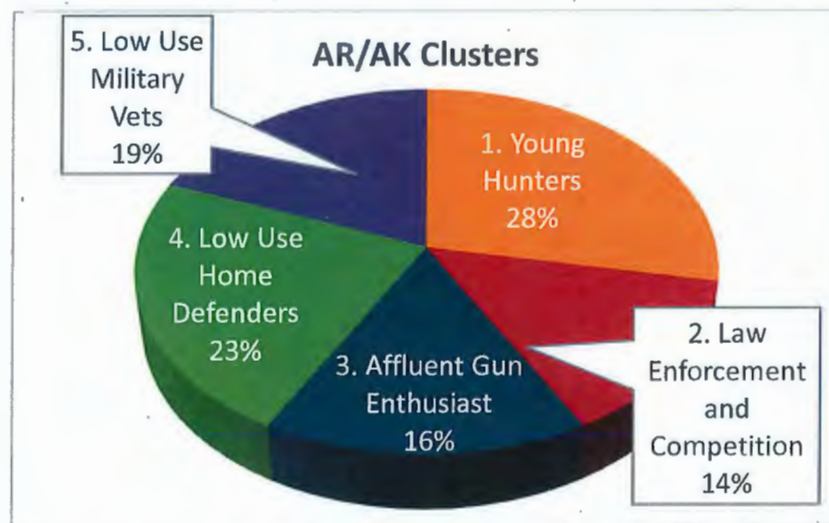

A Cluster Analysis or Market Segmentation as it is more commonly referred to is a concept that was developed to help marketers identify specific consumer groups based on a specific set and sub-set of demographic and specific product usage patterns. Market segmentation means dividing the market into distinct groups of individual segments or clusters with similar wants or needs and behaviors. A market segment or cluster is a sub-set of a people, in this case MSR owners with one or more characteristics that cause them to demand similar product and/or services based on qualities of those products such as usage activity and demographics. A true market segment meets all of the following criteria: it is distinct from other segments (different segments have different needs), it is homogeneous within the segment (exhibits common needs); it responds similarly to a market stimulus and media.

Using a cluster analysis technique and the following variables:

- Age
- Reasons for owning
- What is your estimated yearly household income?
- How many MSRs do you own?
- Law Enforcement or Military

We established 5 clusters:

1. Young Hunters
2. Law Enforcement and Competition
3. Affluent Gun Enthusiast
4. Low Use Home Defenders
5. Low Use Military Vets

How to Read the Cluster Charts

In all of the cluster charts the sample profile is 0. An index of +20 means the cluster is 20% more likely to exhibit that behavior. So for example Cluster 1 is 21% more likely to own a single MSR and 15 less likely to own multiple MSRs.

10.1 Cluster 1 - Young and Infrequent

Young and Infrequent make up 28% of MSR owners. They tend to be:

- Non-military
- Age under 35
- Well educated
- To purchase an MSR for hunting
- Less likely to buy an MSR in the next 12 months
- Less likely to work in the law enforcement field

10.2 Cluster 2 – Law Enforcement and Competition

Law Enforcement and Competition make up 14% of MSR owners. They tend to be:

- Avid, multiple MSR owners
- Military background
- Age under 35
- Competition shooters
- Go hunting
- Use MSR for work.

10.3 Cluster 3 – The Affluent Gun Enthusiast

The Affluent Gun Enthusiast accounts for 16% of MSR owners. They tend to be:

- Age under 45
- Lower income
- Likely to buy MSR
- Less well educated
- Hunters.

10.4 Cluster 4 – Low Use Home Defenders

Low Use Home Defenders account for 23% of all MSR owners. They tend to be:

- Age over 35
- Well educated
- Collectors
- Hunters.

10.5 Cluster 5 – Low Use Military Vets

Low Use Military Vets account for 18% of all MSR owners. They tend to be:

- Non users
- Single MSR
- Less likely to buy MSR and accessories
- Age 45+
- No children at home
- Lower income
